First Generation

1. Unknown CHARAPP was born (date unknown). According to numerous documents referenced in the notes of individuals in the Charapp descendency, the Charapps were from Neterpince. The documents variously describe Neterpince as being in Austria, Austria-Hungary, Poland and Galacia.

According to the ShtetlSeeker on jewishgen.org, the Jewish community of Neterpin'tse was located at latitude and longitude +49° 43' 59.88", +25° 21' 0.00" (http://maps.google.com/maps?q=49.7333,25.3500+\(Neterpin'tse\))). This puts the town in today's Ukraine, about 250 miles due east of Krawkow, Poland--100 miles east of the border of Poland.

In 1900, the best description for the location of Neterpin'tse was probably Galacia--the full official name of this Austrian province being: the Kingdom of Galicia and Lodomeria, and the Grand Duchy of Krakau with the Duchies of Auschwitz and Zator. However, the political situation was very fluid at his time. See: http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Galicia_\(Central_Europe\)).

Thus, it is no wonder that the Charapp's identified themselves with various nationalities upon coming to the United States.

Unknown CHARAPP had the following children:

- +2 i. Meyer CHARAPP.
- +3 ii. Moss CHARAPP.

Second Generation

2. Meyer CHARAPP was born (date unknown). According to the Passport Applications of sons Jozef (March 23, 1925) and Max (June 16, 1921), their father's name was Meyer.

Meyer CHARAPP had the following children:

- 4 i. Morris CHARAPP was born about 1868. Morris, age 38, was listed as a brother of Menes (Max) Charapp in an Application for Exception from the Classification of Alien Enemy dated December 22, 1919, available on footnote.com. Morris is shown as living in Galacia at the time.
- +5 ii. Yetta CHARAPP, born 1875; married Unknown MINGA.
- +6 iii. Menes or Mauer "Max" CHARAPP, born July 16, 1875, Neterpin'tse, Austria.
- +7 iv. Joseph CHARAPP, born March 3, 1879, Neterpince, Poland; married Bessie HACKMAN, June 22, 1902; died November 24, 1957.
- +8 v. Rose CHARAPP, born about 1888; married Unknown SCHWEPP.

3. Moss CHARAPP was born (date unknown). According to the Ship Manifest of New Amsterdam, arriving June 2, 1913, Aron Charapp's father's name was Moss.

Because son Aron was traveling with a Menes Charap, who were from the same town and the same surname, but had different fathers (Aron's father was Moss; Menes' father was Meyer), and they were each going to see their brother, it is likely that and it will be assumed here that Moss and Meyer were brothers and Aron and Menes were first cousins.

Moss CHARAPP was married.

Moss CHARAPP had the following children:

- +9 i. Louis Harry CHARAPP, born April 1, 1887, Austria-Hungary; married Annie HACKMAN, 1907, Rankin, Allegheny Co., Pennsylvania; died September 18, 1968, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.
- +10 ii. Aaron or Aron CHARAPP, born December 28, 1889; married Rachel Clara BECK.

Third Generation

5. Yetta CHARAPP was born in 1875. Yetta (Minga), age 45, was listed as a sister of Menes (Max) Charapp in an Application for Exception from the Classification of Alien Enemy dated December 22, 1919, available on footnote.com. Yetta is shown as living in Galacia at the time.

Yetta CHARAPP and Unknown MINGA were married. Unknown MINGA was born (date unknown).

6. Menes or Mauer "Max" CHARAPP was born on July 16, 1875 in Neterpin'tse, Austria. According to the Passenger Manifest of the Nieuw Amsterdam, sailing from Rotterdam on May 24, 1913, a Menes Charap, age 38 (meaning he was born in approximately 1875) traveled to New York. He claimed his nationality as Austrian, he spoke Hebrew and he was from Neterpince, Austria. His nearest relative was his wife, who lived in Neterpince, Galacia. Her name is difficult to read, and could be "Suize". Menes was traveling to see his brother Joseph Charap, at the corner of Miller and Harriet Streets in Rankin, Pennsylvania.

Menes was traveling with an Aron Charap, age 23 (meaning he was born in approximately 1890). He claimed his nationality as Austrian, he spoke Hebrew and he was from Neterpince, Austria. His nearest relative was his father Moss, who lived in Neterpince, Galacia. Aron was traveling to Turtle Creek, Pennsylvania to see his brother Levin (possibly Louis, although the handwriting is difficult to read) Charap, in Turtle Creek, Pennsylvania.

Because Aron and Menes were traveling together, they were from the same town, they had the same surname but had different fathers (Aron's father was Moss; Menes' father was Meyer), and they were each going to see their brother, it is likely that and it will be assumed here that Moss and Meyer were brothers and Aron and Menes were, therefore, first cousins. THIS ASSUMPTION NEEDS TO BE CONFIRMED.

According to a Declaration of Intention to become a U.S. Citizen, dated December 30, 1915, Menes was born on March 5, 1875 and he was from Netenpinse, Poland.

According to the WW I draft registration card filed in 1918, Max was born on June 12, 1875 in Austria-Hungary. He lived at 1 Miller Ave. in Rankin, Pennsylvania and he worked at Union Switch and Signal in Swissvale.

According to an Application for Exception from the Classification of Alien Enemy dated December 22, 1919, available on footnote.com, Max 1. used the name Mauer, 2. lived at 930 Washington St., Braddock, PA, 3. worked as a baker at Max Kwallers, at the same address, 4. worked at Westinghouse Electric in East Pittsburgh until 1916, then at Union Switch and Signal in Swissvale until March 1, 1919, 5., earned about $1,000 per year, and 6. favored the United States in WW I. Max appears to have filed the application in order to become a citizen, so he could obtain passports for his family, apparently so he could bring them to the United States. The application appears to have been denied because his interview questions were inconsistent with his application (there are no apparent discrepancies), he could not write English and because "subject has apparently not applied himself in the matter of becoming acquainted with the fundamental principles of this Government and is not informed upon general matters pertaining thereto."

According to the Passport Application filed by Max Charapp on June 16, 1921, 1. Max was born on July 16, 1875 in Austria, 2. his father was named Meyer, 3. he came to the United States sailing from Rotterdam on May 15, 1913, 4. he lived in the United States for eight years, from 1913 to 1921, and 5. he was living in Braddock, Pennsylvania at the time of his application.

Menes or Mauer CHARAPP had the following children:

- 11 i. Rose CHARAPP was born about 1902 in Galacia. Rose, age 18, was listed as a daughter of Menes (Max) Charapp in an Application for Exception from the Classification of Alien Enemy dated December 22, 1919, available on footnote.com. Rose is shown as having been born in Galacia and was living in Galacia at the time.
- 12 ii. Yetta CHARAPP was born about 1904 in Galacia. Yetta, age 16, was listed as a daughter of Menes (Max) Charapp in an Application for Exception from the Classification of Alien Enemy dated December 22, 1919, available on footnote.com. Yetta is shown as having been born in Galacia and was living in Galacia at the time.
- 13 iii. Milton CHARAPP was born about 1907 in Galacia. Milton, age 13, was listed as a son of Menes (Max) Charapp in an Application for Exception from the Classification of Alien Enemy dated December 22, 1919, available on footnote.com. Milton is shown as having been born in Galacia and was living in Galacia at the time.
- 14 iv. Joseph CHARAPP was born about 1911 in Galacia. Joseph, age 9, was listed as a son of Menes (Max) Charapp in an Application for Exception from the Classification of Alien Enemy dated December 22, 1919, available on footnote.com. Joseph is shown as having been born in Galacia and was living in Galacia at the time.

7. Joseph CHARAPP was born on March 3, 1879 in Neterpinse, Poland. He died on November 24, 1957 at the age of 78. He was buried in Ahavath Achim Congregation Cem., Forrest Hills, Pennsylvania. Joseph (also spelled

Funeral services were held Tuesday from her home, after which interment was made at the Forest Hills Cemetery in Ardmore.

Louis Harry CHARAPP and Annie HACKMAN had the following children:

- +18 i. Rose CHARAPP, born May 9, 1908, Turtle Creek, Allegheny Co., Pennsylvania; married Henry HARRIS, May 28, 1931, Pittsburgh, Allegheny Co., Pennsylvania; died November 17, 2001, Pittsburgh, Allegheny Co., Pennsylvania.

10. Aaron or Aron CHARAPP was born on December 28, 1889. According to the Passenger Manifest of the Nieuw Amsterdam, sailing from Rotterdam on May 24, 1913, an Aron Charap, age 23 (meaning he was born in approximately 1890) traveled to New York. He claimed his nationality as Austrian, he spoke Hebrew and he was from Neterpince, Austria. His nearest relative was his father Moss, who lived in Neterpince, Galacia. Aron was traveling to Turtle Creek, Pennsylvania to see his brother Levin (possibly Louis, although the handwriting is difficult to read) Charap, in Turtle Creek, Pennsylvania.

Aron was traveling with a Menes Charap, age 38 (meaning he was born in approximately 1875). This is almost certainly the Max Charapp seen in later records. He claimed his nationality as Austrian, he spoke Hebrew and he was from Neterpince, Austria. His nearest relative was his wife, who lived in Neterpince, Galacia. Her name is difficult to read, and could be "Suize". Menes was traveling to see his brother Joseph Charap, at the corner of Miller and Harriet Streets in Rankin, Pennsylvania.

Because Aron and Menes were traveling together, they were from the same town, they had the same surname but had different fathers (Aron's father was Moss; Menes' father was Meyer), and they were each going to see their brother, it is likely that and it will be assumed here that Moss and Meyer were brothers and Aron and Menes were, therefore, first cousins. THIS ASSUMPTION NEEDS TO BE CONFIRMED.

According to his WW I draft registration card filed in 1917, Aron was born in 1889. At that time, he owned his own bottling business in Braddock, Pennsylvania. He lived at 923 Washington Street in Braddock, Pennsylvania.

According to the Passenger Manifest of the S.S. Aquitania arriving in New York on September 24, 1935, Aaron was 46 years old (meaning he was born in approximately 1889). He became a U.S. citizen in 1920 and he lived in 1935 at 205 Braddock Ave., Braddock, Pennsylvania.

According to Aaron's Petition for Naturalization, apparently dated June 16, 1919 (it cannot be explained why the 1935 Passenger Manifest says 1920), (i) his occupation was soft drink manufacturer, (ii) he was born December 28, 1889, (iii) from Natrarprize, Austria Hungary, (iv) he emigrated from Rotterdam on May 24, 1913 on the ship New Amsterdam and arrived in New York on June 13, 1913, (v) he was traveling with Menes Charapp and Joseph Charapp to Braddock to meet Louis Charapp, (vi) his wife was Rachel Clara, born March 1, 1897 in Bronxville, New York, (vii) he declared allegiance to Poland, and (viii) he had lived continuously in the United States since June 3, 1913. Interestingly, a Max Herrup was one of the witnesses signing the petition.

According to the WW II draft registration card filed in 1942, Aaron was born in June 1889 in Poland. He lived 6405 Monitor St., Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania and his business, which he owned, was located at 205 Braddock Ave., Braddock, Pennsylvania.

Aaron or Aron CHARAPP and Rachel Clara BECK were married. Rachel Clara BECK was born on March 1, 1897 in Bronxville, New York. According to a Passenger Manifest of the R.M.S. Mauretania, arriving in New York on March 26, 1952, Rachel was 54 years old (meaning she was born in 1898) and she was born in New York.

Aaron or Aron CHARAPP and Rachel Clara BECK had the following children:

- +22 i. Bernard Murray CHARAPP, born May 30, 1917, Braddock, Allegheny Co., Pennsylvania; married Ann SAVKO; died March, 1972.

- +24 iii. Evelyn CHARAPP, born 1924; married Edward H. GREENBERG; died November 24, 2010, Pittsburgh, Allegheny Co., Pennsylvania.

According to his sons Mel and Harvey: He moved to Pittsburgh, PA in the 1920's. In Pittsburgh, he did electrical work and then, he sold lighting fixtures, appliances and, with the advent of the radio, radios. When selling a radio, he would call KDKA and ask them to broadcast in order to make the sale. He had the opportunity to join two partnerships--a company called Bluestone or Hamburg Brothers. Benjamin joined Bluestone, which was in the electrical business, which eventually failed. (The Hamburg Bros. partnership was very successful and became the RCA distributor in Pittsburgh and all of Pennsylvania.) After Bluestone failed (approximately 1927), he operated a service station in Braddock, Pennsylvania that he rented from Grandpa Charapp's nephew, Aaron Charapp. Benjamin then started grocery store in Swissvale, PA (around 1929). He then took over his father-in-law's grocery business in the summer of 1933. The grocery was located at 1 Miller St., Rankin, Pennsylvania. He and his family lived above the grocery store. The store closed in the 1950's, after which Benjamin worked in the Allegheny County Recorder of Deeds office. He was also a member of the Rankin School Board for many years.

Mel Hindin: A Museum Treasure

Visitors to the Museum's Hall of Gems and Minerals have undoubtedly noticed the scores of impressive specimens on display bearing the proud label "Gift of Melvin Hindin." In fact, some of the most important additions to the Museum's mineralogy collections in recent years were gifts from Mel. Sadly, Mel passed away last December, but his cherished friendship and legacy of generosity endures.

Mel first developed a love for museums as a child growing up in the Pittsburgh area. Though his chosen profession as a social worker was far afield from museums, he never forgot that love. Toward the end of his distinguished career, which culminated in the directorship of the Hathaway Home for Children in Highland Park, Mel decided to "prepare for retirement" by becoming a docent at the Natural History Museum.

From 1984 until his death in 2007—a span of nearly a quarter century—the Museum became a major focus of Mel's life. Mel not only served as a touring docent but also as a volunteer in the Mineral Sciences Department. He was an active member of the Board of Directors of the Museum's Gem & Mineral Council and played a leadership role as a member of the Museum Alliance. Together with wife Lois Petzold Hindin, Mel was also active in the Fellows Program.

As a docent, Mel especially relished giving tours of the Hall of Gems and Minerals, which led him to become acquainted with Dr. Anthony Kampf, the Museum's Curator of Gems and Minerals. Mel immersed himself in the world of gem and mineral enthusiasts and assembled a fine collection of his own. But Mel always put the Museum first, and during his last 15 years the Museum's Mineral Sciences Department was the particular beneficiary of Mel's enthusiastic support.

Guests can now view a portion of Mel's spectacular collection in a new display in the Hall of Gems and Minerals. Many other pieces that Mel donated can be found throughout the Hall. His friendship and remarkable spirit of generosity will be missed, but he will forever remain a part of the Museum through the many rare and wonderful specimens that he so thoughtfully gave.
