Joseph apparently came to the United States to escape the draft.

Joseph and Augusta were naturalized on September 25, 1906 in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

According to Roberta Donley-Bukowski, Joseph sent care packages to his family in Germany during the war.

Joseph and his family lived at 203 Herndon St. in the Elliott (West End) neighborhood of the City of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. They attended St. Martin's Catholic Church (now Guardian Angel's Parish).

Joseph was a puddler. The basic product of early ironmaking was 'pig iron'.

Pig iron was brittle in quality due to impurities and the nature of its molecular structure and had to be converted into 'wrought iron' by re-heating and beating with heavy hammers to impart the strength and tensile qualities required for more robust use. An improved method of achieving this was 'puddling' - the iron was heated in a reverberatory furnace which was normally top heated, the heat source not being in direct contact with the metal thus reducing contamination. In charge of this furnace was the 'Puddler', a highly skilled and dangerous occupation which required physical strength, stamina and sustained concentration. He retired early due to rheumatism.

Joseph died of pneumonia. His funeral was handled by Staab Funeral Home.

Bronson-

Daniel L. Belote, age 52, of Bronson, died Monday, Sept. 15, 2008 at the Community Health Center of Branch County following a long illness.

He was born April 14, 1956 in Coldwater, son of Kenneth M. and Carolyn M. (Klemmer) Belote and graduated from Bronson High School in 1974. He then earned his Associates Degree at Ferris State University in 1976 and in 1977 moved to Houston, Texas for a year, working in construction. Dan lived and worked in Colorado for Wick Homes from 1980 to 1989.

Dan married Myra Zabonick, the love of his life, on Oct. 7, 1988 in Las Vegas, Nev. Together, they moved to Rochester, while Dan worked for Pulte Homes Corporation in Bloomfield Hills. Then, in 1995, they moved with their children to Bronson while Dan worked for Crest Homes in Middlebury, Ind. until his illness forced his early retirement.

He was a member of St. Mary of Assumption Catholic Church in Bronson and enjoyed golfing, hunting, fishing and bowling but his passion was always his family.

Surviving are his wife Myra, his daughter Sarah Belote and son Garrett Belote, both at home, his mother Carolyn Belote in Florida; his brothers and sisters-in-law, Kenneth and Mary Belote of Rochester, Scott and Julie Belote of Aurora, Colo. and Dave and Chris Belote of Dorr, and several nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by his father Kenneth Belote, his bother Matt Belote, his father-in-law Bill Zabonick and his brother-in-law, Bill Hyska.

The Funeral Mass celebrating the life of Daniel L. Belote will be held at 11 a.m. Friday, Sept. 19, 2008 at St. Mary of Assumption Catholic Church in Bronson with Rev. Fr. Richard A. Fritz officiating. Interment will follow in St. Mary Cemetery. Prayers before Mass will be held at 10:30 a.m. Friday at the Kolcz Funeral Home.

The family will receive friends at the Kolcz Funeral Home from 2-4 and 6-8 p.m. Thursday where the Rosary will be recited at 7 p.m. Thursday. Memorial donations are suggested to the Bill Zabonick Memorial Scholarship Fund or to the family.

Brian Klemmer

Brian Klemmer 1950 - 2011 Brian Klemmer, age 61, longtime resident of Novato, committed father and prominent businessman, died on April 7, 2011 at Santa Rosa Memorial Hospital as the result of acute aortic dissection. Brian is a graduate of West Point Military Academy, and founder and CEO of Klemmer & Associates Leadership Seminars, Inc. With over 30 years experience he has inspired hundreds of thousands of people worldwide, causing them to produce measurable and long-lasting changes in their lives. Not only was Brian a leadership expert, he was also a successful author of the highly acclaimed #1 best selling Wall Street Journal business book The Compassionate Samurai. His most recent books are My Fight with God, He Won and So Did I, and newly released God in The Boardroom. He has shared the stage with such icons in the personal growth and leadership arena as Zig Ziglar, Les Brown and Mark Victor Hanson. Brian Klemmer founded Klemmer & Associates with a mission; To Create a World that Works for Everyone with No One Left Behind. He lived passionately, creating leaders living as Compassionate Samurai to make a difference in the world. With Brian's vision, Klemmer and Associates Compassionate Samurai have raised over $500K to support at-risk youth through the Tariq Khamisa Foundation and have built hundreds of homes for those in need of shelter through Project Mercy. He believed in Christians becoming Compassionate Samurai and preached in large churches throughout the world with this message. The greatest honor you could show Brian and the world (in his opinion) is to step up and live as a Compassionate Samurai. Brian will be lovingly remembered for his incredible compassion, wisdom, wit and the tremendous love he had for God, his family and friends. He is survived by his beloved and supportive wife of 27 years, Roma, and sons, Kelly Marsh, David Marsh, and daughter, Krystal Klemmer. He was predeceased by his mother, Alice Klemmer. He is also survived by his father, Ken Klemmer, brother, Chris Klemmer, sister, Susan Klemmer and many others. He will be sorely missed by all. A Celebration of Life Memorial will be held on Tuesday, April 26th from 5 to 7 p.m. at the Marriott San Mateo, 1770 South Amphlett Blvd. Details available at www.Klemmer.com - follow the links under "Invitation to Attend a Celebration of Life." The memorial service will also be available live-stream on www.Klemmer.com and/or <http://memorial.Klemmer.com>. In lieu of flowers, please see the web page for donation information to the Brian Klemmer Memorial Fund, which will support Brian's vision, or make a donation to your favorite charity.

Jane K. Klemmer, founder of Klemmer Educational Consulting, LLC, is a graduate of Wesleyan University with a Bachelor of Arts degree in music, and Columbia University with an MBA in finance.

A former Managing Director with a Fortune 500 financial services company (MBIA Insurance Corp.), Jane has a wealth of experience as a senior finance executive and mentor to young professionals at all stages of their career development. She attributes much of her mentoring success to her ability to connect with her staff, celebrate their strengths and talents, and provide individualized counseling on strategies for overcoming personal challenges. Her coaching style consistently stresses taking ownership and developing the confidence to be one's own advocate for career advancement. Under Jane's guidance as a business leader, she regularly coached members of her team in honing analytical skills, writing effective proposals, and delivering confident oral presentations to senior management. She has experience in campus recruiting, having served for several years as an active member of her company's Analyst Development Program recruiting committee.

The energy and passion that led to Jane's successful 25 year business career have carried over to her educational consulting practice where she now utilizes her research, finance, marketing and strategic planning expertise. An experienced mentor and the mother of three daughters, she is keenly aware of the importance of providing guidance, structure and inspiration to a young person, while helping that individual develop a sense of self.

In addition, Jane understands how a well-informed consultant best serves her clients.

In addition to her client private practice, Jane conducts seminars on college admission, essay writing, navigating financial aid, and financial literacy for teens. Committed to helping youth in her community, she offers a scholarship to her local high school through which she advises a first generation, under-served student on the college admission process.

Immediately following completion of her undergraduate education and before entering graduate school, Jane was a professional violist in New York City and performed and taught music in Venezuela. She remains active in her local music community, and performs regularly with orchestras and chamber groups.

Kate Klemmer Terry has worked in merchandising for over 20 years and in Ecommerce for the last 11 years always in fashion companies. Having grown up in the merchandising and marketing disciplines gives Kate an advantage in understanding how to exploit the Internet while enhancing brand image and presence. Many fashion companies were late to the web fearing degradation of their brand image and necessitation of promotional activity. In Kate's experience throughout her career, she successfully appreciatively represented the brand and built business, in that order.

Prior to dash, she was EVP Global Ecommerce/Internet for Tommy Hilfiger, where she unified and built a global internet team, defined processes and infrastructure for integration of digital throughout the organization and helped define the global marketing and content strategy to capitalize on the Tommy brand worldwide. She and her team re-launched the websites on more technologically advanced platforms creating unified branding and commerce sites locally. They drove sales through improved merchandising, site ease of use, content development and holistic marketing strategies.

Prior to joining Tommy, Kate was DVP Internet at Coach in the US. While at Coach Kate and her team guided the re-launch of the website to its current more modern look and feel, improved user interface, and upgraded the platform. They successfully drove more profitable, non-promotional sales through impactful merchandising and content development. Before Coach, Kate was VP Ecommerce and Licensing at Kate Spade where she launched katespade.com as well as new successful licensed businesses. The start of her Ecommerce experience came from participating in the initial launch of polo.com as GMM, Ralph Lauren Media. I

In "life before Ecommerce", she worked in licensing and merchandising for Ralph Lauren, Martha Stewart, Revlon and Banana Republic. Kate earned her MBA from the Haas School of Business, UC Berkeley and a BA from Bucknell University.

Elizabeth "Beth" KLEMMER and Howard Daniel NICHOLS were married in 1984. Howard Daniel NICHOLS was born on January 26, 1959 in Cincinnati, Hamilton Co., Ohio. He died on May 19, 2010 at the age of 51 in Indianola, Washington. The following obituary was published on May 25, 2010 in the Kitsap Sun (Bremerton, Washington):

Howard Daniel Nichols, 51

Howard Daniel Nichols
of Indianola

Jan. 26, 1959

to May 19, 2010

Passed away at home after a courageous eleven-month struggle with leukemia.

Dan was born in Cincinnati, Ohio, to Betty Bell O'Connell and Howard William Nichols. He studied Construction Management at the U of Cincinnati but had a strong interest in the outdoors that changed his direction. In 1981, he moved to Seattle and worked in outdoor equipment stores and co-owned one of the first espresso carts in Seattle.

He met his wife, Beth Klemmer, in 1982, they married in 1984, and moved to Indianola after the birth of their first son in 1986. Indianola became their beloved home. Dan developed his woodworking skills over the years, building windows and doors, musical instruments, and finally cabinets and furniture. In 1995 he started his business Dan Nichols Woodworks and became known for his master craftsmanship and finely detailed work.

He was a dedicated parent volunteer in the North Kitsap Options Program and valued teaching and mentoring young people. Dan had a grand generosity of spirit, a passionate love of community, and was a natural storyteller. He felt most at home outdoors and loved hiking, walking the beach, and gardening. His sincerity, friendliness and openness to people of all ages and walks of life, warm smile and sense of humor will be remembered fondly by all who knew him. Dan was a devoted father and husband and loved spending time with his family and many friends.

He is survived by his brother Jim Nichols (Kim) and family of Cincinnati; his wife, Beth Nichols, their son Forrest and daughter-in-law Sarah, and son Jesse.

Memorial Service will be held Saturday May 29, 1 p.m. at the Suquamish Tribe's Community House of Awakened Culture. Remembrances may be made to Caringbridge.org or the Suquamish United Church of Christ Barbara Sneed Fund for neighbors in need.
